Any Suggestions	A very well designed syllabus. Congratulations to the team. The year of books need updating. The practicals are many, if they are covered, your students will be in an advantageous position. The total of lecture hours in the two papers of same credit are not the same, but that is not a problem. If all the topics are covered it may a bit overload the students.

It would be amazing for students who are interested in research, to work on a structured or unstructured research project under the guidance of faculty. Because practicals or laboratory curriculum will only help them to a certain extent. But, a research project addressing real-world problems would provide them with the confidence to pursue much higher career objectives and explore the real beauty of scientific collaboration. Either they could formulate their hypothesis and design experiments around it independently or could be mentored to perform a project based on the predefined objectives and methods. Also, in addition to that they should be encouraged to write papers and publish their research in journals, it would not only make their work credible but will also make it easier for them to get the position either corporate or research in the field of their interest.
